We delayed our paper beyond the usual time of publication, that we might give the Official Returns for the County, but much to our regret we are unable to do so. Our Reporter, remained at the County Seat until the lawful time for receiving returns had expired, and has not yet returned. We give, however, such as we have received up to going to press.

THE STATE OF MINNESOTA.

Proclamation for Thanksgiving.

In observance of a time honored custom, I hereby proclaim Thursday, the 23rd of November next, as a day, throughout the State, of thanksgiving to Almighty God.

It becomes us, as a people who believe in the Divine Providence, gratefully to acknowledge the countless blessings we receive, and humbly to supplicate the continuance of God's goodness towards us.

"O, give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever. Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom He hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy; and gathered them out of the lands, from the east and from the west, from the north and from the south."

"Oh, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and His wonderful works to the children of men! For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness. And let them sacrifice the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and declare His works with rejoicing."

Leaving for a day our usual avocations, let us render unto God an offering of Thanksgiving and Praise.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the State, at St. Paul, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-first.

WM. R. MARSHALL

By the Governor.

H. C. ROGERS, Secretary of State.

A GENUINE KISS.—Wm. Gilmore Simms, the Southern poet and novelist, thus describes a genuine specimen of osculatory enjoyment:

A genuine, hearty, honest kiss is made up of every thing that is good. It smacks of truth, of sensibility or of delicate sentiment, of genial sensibility, of strong natural sympathies, of ingenious devotion, of preference, of feeling, an ardent yet artless nature, obeying the sweetest and simplest nature, at once bashful and tender, willing to be won, needing the winner, yet yielding reluctantly to the natural law that makes coyness and restraint on wooing, stimulating even when it darts away in flight. The first kiss is the dawn on the peach, the opening of the rosebud, the blossoms of the dawn, the one star of the night, the delight that makes all the future life a dream of the Elysium and hallows the home of memory, even when it no longer harbors love.

WANTED TO KNOW IF HE WAS DEAD.

Scene: Office of a morning newspaper. Enter a German, much the worst for an overnight spree. Thus to the clerk at the counter:

"If you please, sir, I want to baper mits dis mornings. One vot hash do names of do beoples vot kill cholera all de vile."

He was handed a paper, and after looking it over in a confused way, said: "Vil you pe so goot ash to read do names vot don't have do chol ra any more too soon chust now, and see if Carl Goinsenkopendsen has got em!" The clerk read the list. The Teuton listening with trembling attention, wiping the perspiration from his brow meanwhile, in great excitement. When the list was completed, the Teuton's face brightened up and he exclaimed: "You don't find om?"

Clerk—"No such name there, sir. Teuton (seizing him warmly by the hand)—This ish nice—this ish some fane; that ish my names, I pin druck ash never vas, and py tam, I vas fraid I vas gone tot mit cholera, and didn't know it. Mine Got! I vas scart."

A PERTINENT INQUIRY.—It was said in the hearing of a New Jersey Quaker lady that Mr. Johnson had threatened to kick out all office-holders who do not also hold "My Policy."

She inquired, with delightful naivete, "but John, can he do it? Does thee think he can stand on one leg long enough to kick anybody?"

SOUND ADVICE.—Barham lectured recently at Crosby's Opera House on the "Art of Money Making." It was not only an amusing, but a very instructive performance. The following extracts should be read and digested by all aspiring business men, who would succeed as Barham has done:

"A man in business should get a good article that the people want, and then advertise it. Your advertisement brings people to see your article and then they become walking advertisements for you. A farmer sows his seed and awaits his return, and so advertisements will bring in their returns in due time. Advertising is like learning, a little is a dangerous thing. You must keep hammering on that nail and clinch it. If you don't advertise your goods it is likely that the sheriff will do it for you by and by. Do it in such a way that the people cannot fail to read it, and continue until they must try the article advertised."

Printer's Commandments.—Thou, especially the ladies, shalt love the printer, for he loveth you muchly.

Thou shalt subscribe for his paper, for he seeketh much to obtain the news of which you remain ignorant.

If a business man thou shalt advertise, that thus thy profits may enable thee not only to pay for thy paper, but put money in thy purse.

Thou shalt not read the manuscript in the hands of the compositor, for he will not hold thee blameless.

Thou shalt not read the news before it is printed, for he will give it to thee in due time.

Thou shalt not at any time send abusive or threatening letters to the editor, nor cowl him more than five times a year.

The Post Office Department will soon be prepared to supply the public with stamped envelopes at the reduced price of $3.20 per thousand, or $3.28 per hundred, and this proportion for smaller quantities. Instruments for letters to be returned to any business house which may be designated if not called for in ten days will be gratuitously printed on envelope when the letters are ordered in amounts not below 500. Many of the letters returned to the dead letter office show that the fact is not generally known that revenue stamps are not recognized for postage. The stamped envelopes will on this account serve to render more certain the conveyance of all letters.

CLAIM AGENTS.—The Attorney General, in reply to the Secretary of War, on the point referred to, in the case of bounty claim agents, for his opinion, concludes as follows:

"I am therefore of the opinion that you have no legal authority to exclude authorized attorneys and agents from collecting bounties, and that, in the presentation and payment of claims, the claimants may act by attorney."

An interesting and amusing article in the November number of Harper's Magazine, on newspaper advertisements, closes with the following advice: "To Merchants. 1.—Advertise. 2.—Advertise liberally. 3.—Advertise courageously. To the public at large. Read the advertisements. 2.—Study them, and verify they shall be for your profit."

The total valuation of real and personal property in Minneapolis last year was $788,006; the present year it is $2,187,844.

Judge C., a well-known, highly respectable Kickerbocker, on the shady side of fifty, with five children, full of fun and frolic, over ready for a joke, to give or take—was hantored the other evening by a Miss of five and twenty for not taking a wife; she urged that he was hale and hearty, and deserved a matrimonial mesquite. The Judge acknowledged the fact, admitted that he was convinced by his fair friend that he had thus far been romies, expressed contrition for the fault confessed, and ended with offering himself to the lady, telling her she could not certainly reject him after pointing out his heinous offense. The lady replied that she would be most happy to take the situation so uniquely advertised, and become bone of his bone and flesh of his flesh, but there was one to her—serious obstacle.

"Well," said the Judge, "name it. My profession is to surmount such obstacles."

"Ah! Judge, this is beyond your power. I have vowed if I ever married a widower, he must have ten children."

"Ten children! O, that's nothing," says the Judge. "I'll give you five now, and my notes on demand in yearly installments for the balance."

It is said that A. J. has employed a scholar in heraldry to design a royal coat-of-arms, to be taken by him as soon as he assumes the right title. The principal features will be a goose rampant, with a view of Ford's Theatre and of A. J. haranguing the foreign ministers and other dignitaries, on the occasion of his inauguration as Vice President. The motto will be selected from his celebratory oration on that occasion, and will read: "plebs sum."

—Salt Rheum and all diseases of the blood can be cured. Many thousands have been cured by the use of Roback's Blood Purifier and Sugar Coated Blood Pills. Thousands of letters bearing witness to this fact are in the hands of Dr. Roback. The purifier is the best alternative known to science, combining, as it does, the syrups of Stillingia with Iodide of potassium, which every physician of education knows to be the surest remedies. The pills, in conjunction with the purifier, never fail to restore system to health and strength.

At Erie, in his speech, the President said, "I tell you all the powers in hell cannot turn me from my purpose." To which some exchange adds, "Doubtless they don't want to!"

SURPRISE POST OFFICE.—Jerome Ratty, well known to many of our citizens, and a former resident of this town, has received the appointment of Post Master at Sunrise in this county.

—Two little Vermont girls, nine and eleven years of age, picked up 100 bushels of potatoes in one day.

CECIL WALK.—We give herewith the metamorphosis of the first fruits, nearly two weeks ago. Fourteen persons committed matrimony.—

Let us draw therefrom a moral and a little good counsel, spiced with good humor and seasoned with sincerity: Husbands, love your wives; wives, be affectionate to your husbands; boys love the girls; girls, don't be afraid of the boys;

old bachelors, try to get married ere it is too late; old maids, be ye comforted and take courage; widows, let us comfort ye. Then will you go on smoothly through time and do well enough for eternity. The Reporter is sent regularly to any address for $2 a year in advance. Thus promising we give the particulars:

Nov. 11th, 1866, at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. J. Q. Hall,

John M. Rogers to Clara Peck, all of St. Croix Falls.

Nov. 20th, at St. Croix Falls, Ezra

Jewell to Nettie Cooper.

Nov. 21st, 1866, at the Cascade

House, Taylors Falls, by the Rev. J. Q.

Hall, John W. Glover to Sarah E. Lucas; Ira Hakes to Mrs. Catherine Crosby; John Backus to Lottie Glover, all on a Green Green from Sunrise.

At Sunrise, Nov. 21, 1866, by Rev.

C. S. Martin, Mr. Harvey Lent to Miss

Margaret Robinson, all of Wyoming.

At Newburg, Centre City, by Rev. C.

Mary Porter.

Recent News.—This is probably the last fish of River News which we shall carry up to our readers this season, as the river has already received the preliminary touches at the hands of Jack

Frost.

The G. B. Knapp came up on her last trip last Friday, bringing up a heavy freight of corn, oats and barley. She brought up for the different towns in the Valley about 15,000 bushels of grain.—

She will probably winter at Prescott.

The Viola will lay up for the winter at Hudson.

The Pioneer came in on Tuesday with a load of freight from St. Paul. She returned to Osceola to lay up for the winter.

The Minnie Will came up on Wednesday with a small lot of freight. She also has sought winter quarters at Osceola.

All of the Mississippi boats have tied up to the shore and the season of na-avigation can be considered fairly closed.

New Mail Arrangement.—On the 15th inst., commenced the contract time for carrying the daily mail from this place to Stillwater, by Messrs. Burbank & Co. It took a couple of days to get terms, coaches, &c. in good working order, but the regularity of the mails and the better facilities for traveling are commendable, and our citizens are duly thankful. Burbank & Co.'s lines are noted for prompt arrivals, careful drivers convenient conveyances. The tri-weekly from Hudson has been discontinued for the present.

Sale of the Northwestern Express

Company.—The Northwestern Express

Company, (better known as Burbank's Express) has been sold to the American Express Company. The transfer of all the routes business and goods took place on Thursday the 15th inst., and after that date the Northwestern Express Co.

ceased to exist.

This sale deprives us of any Express to this place at present, the terminus of the American being at Stillwater.—

It is more than probable, however, that

SCHOOLS.—The two school districts in this town not having made any provision for public schools during the winter, the following ladies have commenced private schools to make up the deficiency.

We bespeak for them all a reasonable patronage.

Miss Carrie Folson opened a private school in the Seminary Building on last Monday. Miss Folson has heretofore proved her ability and thorough qualification as a teacher and has always given the very best satisfaction.

Mrs. L. B. Smith, designs opening soon, a school at her residence in the first district. Mrs. Smith is a lady of culture and refinement, and an old and successful teacher. We only hope for the benefit of the scholars in this district that she may be induced to place no special limit on the number of her pupils.

A school is also taught in the upper part of the first district by Miss Scovill, a new comer. Her school is well spoked of.

Ample opportunity is thus offered all the scholars in town to attend excellent schools this winter.

I. O. G. T.—The following officers were installed in Taylors Falls Lodge, on Wednesday evening, 14th inst. for the ensuing quarter:

W. C. T.—Dr. D. A. Spicer.

W. V. T.—Mrs. L. B. Smith.

W. S.—Chas. W. Folson.

W. A. S.—Miss Carrie Folson.

W. P. S.—J. D. Ballard.

W. I. G.—Mrs. Chas. W. Folson.

W. O. G.—Erastus Guard.

W. R. H. S.—Miss Anne Wyckoff.

W. L. H. S.—Miss Mary Smith.

W. C.—B. A. Kemp.

EVERYBODY DESIRES to report everything of local importance, and to this end request all of our readers to interest themselves in sending us all items of importance, so that we can give complete epitomes of all that transpires in our midst. Our medical friends can post us on accidents and important surgical operations, farmers can send us lots of items. Lumbermen can give us notes by the score, while the general public can furnish their quota. In this way we can make a spicy and readable sheet.

PHOTOGRAPHY.—It gives us pleasure to announce that Capt. Frank Thornton of France has received a commission as Brevet Major for good conduct and meritorious services while in the field.

Frank has served his regular three years in the ranks and received his promotion in regular succession and by virtue of bravery, gallant services and marked ability. We congratulate our friend on this evidence of the estimation in which he is held by higher powers.

HOOP POLES.—Several thousand hoop poles are being delivered and piled up about the store of Wyckoff & Clark, opposite this office. About a dozen boys are engaged in this business. We understand that it is designed opening out a stove factory in the spring either at this place or that growing town—Franconia.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A man while passing along the road near Chicago City last week, received a charge of buckshot in his hat. He escaped without further injury and endeavored to find the bungling marksman, but without success.

Doubtless he had seen the consequences and ineffectually shot himself.

THE OLD RELIABLE.—Do not be deceived by purchasing any quack nostrums under the various names of Bitters. Purchase none other but Dr. Robacks Stomach Bitters, which are comounded of the purest drugs, and in which the afflicted can rely. It

SPUNKY.—A reliable and live newspaper says: Some people have an idea that we published a newspaper solely to gratify them and their whims, and because they advertise with us and take our papers, that when they commit errors knowingly that we should not mention them.

We wish it distinctly understood by all that we now publish an independent journal, (afraid of no man because of his money,) and when we cannot so publish we will turn our attention to 'sawing wood,' and the man that asks us to change our principles will be ordered to find the stoop."

Year! thy scattered hair with steel-like a leafless branch thy scepter, and thy thou a sliding ear, indebted to no wheels but urged by storms along its slippery way, I love thee, all unlovely as thou seem'st, and dreaded as thou art."

HUNTING EXPLOITS.—A hunter while out on Chicago Lake, last week saw a couple of deer swimming across the Lake some distance from him, but being a good rower, he immediately gave chase, caught up with them before they reached the shore, and killed them both with an

oar. The secondary object was the death of a fine large hog, chased by hogfish-ness in eating the entrails after the deer had been dressed on the shore.

bled in a number of places, on the 21-st inst. in St. Paul, by John Horan. Although severely injured, it is thought the wounded man will recover.

LARGE GINSENG SUPPLY.—The St.

plin, one day last week, shipped to New York, seventeen thousand one hundred and fifty pounds of ginseng. It was prepared and put up in about fifty packages, ready for shipment to China.

tom, I hereby proclaim Thursday, the 29th of November next, as a day
